

Application for Research Funding Center for Research in Law and Justice

The Center for Research in Law and Justice seeks to support research and publication activities of faculty and doctoral students. The goal of this initiative is to strengthen the applicant's ability to complete planned or ongoing research tasks, prepare articles for publication, complete dissertation-related tasks, or submit proposals for additional funding.

Center funding will be provided up to $500 dollars for applications that are deemed worthy by the Center's Research Committee. Proposals will be reviewed quarterly and evaluated on the following criteria: (1) Relevance to the above-stated goal of the funding program; and (2) reasonableness of the budget request.

To be considered for funding, you must complete the following application form and submit it to Professor McCarty, Center Director, at mccartyw@uic.edu.

Date (mm/dd/yyyy):
Name:
Email:
Phone:
Research Goals: What is your research goal and how will this funding help you achieve that goal? What specific tasks will this funding support?
What is the timeframe for completing this work?
Have you applied for other funding to support this work? If so, how will Center funds be used in conjunction with other funds?
Do you have IRB approval to collect these data? If so, please list the protocol number.
Budget: Please provide an estimated breakdown of how the funding will be used? (est. $ amounts)	Travel:
	Supplies:
	Equipment:
	Services:
	Other: